A day into the wild.... Tata Zoological Park Visit

“What is there to life if a man cannot hear the lonely cry of a whippoorwill or the arguments of the frogs around a pond at night?”

— Chief Seattle, 1854

A day into the wilderness

Tata Zoological Park Visit

By

Telco Children

Organized by TML Drivelines and SANKALP

Under Tata Volunteering Week

A photograph of three children standing on large, flat stepping stones that cross a shallow stream. The child on the left is wearing a light blue shirt and dark pants. The child in the middle is wearing a bright red hooded rain suit. The child on the right is wearing a grey hooded rain suit and dark pants. The background is a lush, green forest with some trees showing autumn colors. The water in the stream is calm and reflects the surrounding greenery and the children.
